Bio

Steve Sens earned his BFA from the Cleveland Institute of Art in 1990, majoring in illustration and minoring in drawing. Steve continues his education through various venues. He is currently enrolled at Sessions.edu studying web site development. With fine art as his passion, Steve currently works professionally in the printing industry as a prepress operator. Following his love for technology, Steve includes an in-depth working knowledge of the Adobe Creative Suite and related professional software and practices in his skill set. Brochure, identity, retouching, color correction and web design round out his level of expertise, and a passion for the creative process is what propels him. He currently lives in North Royalton, Ohio

Artist Statement

My art is a reflection and result of the process of introspection, a way of understanding the movement and motions of life and living. My work is a visual way of capturing what is felt, realizing it, so that a feeling can be studied, not in a consuming way, but engaging. A method which allows a timeless realization to a moments pause.
